This worksheet is designed to be used throughout the QI Improvement effort to track your progress as you adopt new strategies to navigate through overuse conversations. Complete for each phase of the 6-month project. Upon completion of your project, use the information recorded here to summarize your activity when completing the required Reflection and Attestation. (Step 3 below). Save a copy of this worksheet to your computer to track your progress.

Step 1: Reflect on your current practice

Consider the following questions and record your thoughts about medical overuse in your own practice.

- How many patients do you see in a day?
- In an average day, how often do patients ask you to order a test or medication that is not necessary?
- In an average day, how often do you order unnecessary tests, medications or treatments?
- Discuss with your leader what reports are available to you related to overuse, i.e., Opioid use, antibiotics, imaging
- How do your conversations with your patients about overuse usually go?
- How do you feel after these conversations?
- What the barriers or challenges do you encounter when having conversations about medical overuse with your patients and/or their support people?
- How do the demonstrated strategies in the podcast series support improvements you are making based on your NRC Provider Communication feedback?

Record your thoughts about medical overuse in your practice and what you would like to achieve in this Quality Improvement project.

Step 2: Identify your focus and improvement strategies. Use the worksheet below to capture progress during your improvement project.

Instructions:

- Identify which of the conversation types identified during the podcast series you would like to focus on improving.
- Identify 1-2 improvement strategies for the conversation type(s) in which you would like to focus. You can focus on the same 1-2 throughout your project or select new strategies every month.
- Record your progress and observations on this worksheet.
